THE ORGANIZATIONAL THERAPY'S CONSTRUCTION

CHIORLIN

METHOD – MCVTEOR

The Organizational Therapy's Construction is the first book about this methodology, it's purpose the process of construction of Chiorlin Methodology Organizational Therapy and it shows all trajectory of the author, that begun in 1977 and ended in 1988, after 11 year inside Volkswagen of Brazil in São Bernardo do Campo, that provided the ideal scenery and construction of methodology and the possibility this book.

In it the writer shares with reader all experiences with its challenges, anguish, successes, no successes, hypothesis, confirmations, refutations and results.

This pragmatic bases the methodology was structured with the insert and justification of psychology's lines : at the moment a new concept, was created a now way of working with Brazilian line.

The difficulties of sustaining and presenting a different approach are tacked in the narrative, specially concerning the time it was created.

The purpose of taking mental, emotional and physical aspects of the groups in the organizational in a integrated way was absolutely pioneer.

For the reader comprehension there are reports either in training courses and therapeutic process. In each chapter you'll find a case with its corresponding narrative, contributions and aggregation into the methodology.
